We will pick you up from your accommodation between 4:00 and 4:10 a.m. Our journey begins in Cusco, heading to the Ollantaytambo train station, where we will board the tourist train bound for KM 104—the starting point of our adventure. During the hike, we will visit the impressive archaeological sites of Chachabamba (2,150 m) and Wiñaywayna (2,650 m).

Our path takes us through a lush cloud forest that blankets the mountains, where we'll encounter a variety of flora, birds, and captivating wildlife. Before reaching the SUN GATE, we'll enjoy a delicious lunch to regain energy for the final leg of the trek. We then continue to the Sun Gate, from where we will get our first breathtaking views of the magnificent Machu Picchu Citadel. After a 1.5-hour walk, we'll enter the archaeological center of Machu Picchu (Circuit 1B) for a brief visit—this spot is ideal for taking the classic photo with the iconic view of Machu Picchu.

Afterwards, we'll take the bus down to Aguas Calientes, a ride that takes approximately 30 minutes.

In the evening, we'll enjoy dinner together and go over the next day's itinerary with our guide

We will spend the night in a comfortable hotel in Aguas Calientes, ensuring we're well-rested for the expedition ahead

We will wake up early (around 5:00 a.m. — the exact time may vary depending on your tour guide's recommendation) and take one of the first buses to the Machu Picchu citadel to enter as soon as it opens (6:00 a.m., Circuit 3 B). There, we will enjoy a guided tour of approximately 2 hours, where you'll learn about the rich history of the Incas and explore all the key areas of the citadel.

If you've reserved a ticket, you may choose to hike Huayna Picchu (2 hours round trip) or Machu Picchu Mountain (3 hours round trip) for an elevated view of the surroundings. A bus will take you back to Aguas Calientes (bus ticket included)

For your return to Cusco, you will take the train from Aguas Calientes to either Ollantaytambo or Poroy train station. Please note that train departure times may vary depending on availability and scheduling. Once you arrive at Ollantaytambo or Poroy station, our transport will be ready to pick you up and take you back to your hotel in Cusco

Responsible tourism that respects and protects this ancient legacy

Our environmental responsibility at Inca Trail is essential for the conservation of this cultural and natural heritage. This commitment translates into a series of sustainable practices that ensure minimal impact on the environment while offering a quality experience to visitors. Main aspects:

1. Promotion of responsible tourism

- Travelers are informed on how to behave respectfully toward the flora, fauna, local communities, and archaeological heritage.
- The number of people per group is limited to minimize impact.

2. Commitment to local communities

- Hiring local personnel with fair working conditions.

Promotion of sustainable ancestral practices and dissemination of the Andean worldview as part of respect for cultural and environmental identity.

3. Support for the conservation of Salkantay

- Archaeological and environmental conservation projects.
- Participation in cleanup campaigns and environmental volunteering.

4. Responsible use of natural resources

- Rational water consumption: Water waste is avoided; water from natural sources is filtered or boiled without contaminating it.
- Sustainable camping: Use of authorized camping areas without damaging the flora or compacting the soil in sensitive areas.

5. Staff training

- Guides, cooks, and porters receive training on environmental practices, SERNANP (National Service of Natural Protected Areas) regulations, and conservation protocols.
- Environmental awareness is promoted among travelers, informing them about their role in protecting the trail.

By choosing Inka Trail Expeditions, you'll be helping make our world a little better!

Don't just see our world, enjoy it, and make it better. We know that our Planet Earth is an incredible place, but it's far from perfect. Inka Trail Expeditions is trying to do the right thing to keep our world better for all of us and those who aren't considered. When you travel with us, you're helping our Inka Foundation and giving back just as much, if not more, which is important for all of us!

Inka Trail Expeditions is a social enterprise, which means the social value of what we do is returning to the destination you're visiting.

Our sustainability program, the "Inka Foundation" Code of Ethics for Tourism, promotes responsible and sustainable tourism in the destinations where we operate, minimizing actions that can generate climate change, with the goal of promoting the well-being of our employees, customers, partners, suppliers, and the community.

With our Inka Foundation, you support local entrepreneurs, small businesses strengthen communities, increase the overall quality of life, and ensure that the places you love will continue to be loved by teaching students to be stewards of the environment.

With your support, we transform local orphanages into homes, provide clean water and quality healthcare, and fund scholarships for education.

We try to help some children experiencing difficulties in school, ranging from problems with concentration, learning, language, and perception to issues with behavior and/or making and keeping friends.

Inka Trail Expeditions invests in the future by focusing on sustainable tourism projects and practices. Our goals are to establish responsible practices that have minimal impact on the environments and communities in which we work, while ensuring our clients enjoy a memorable trip.

There are many reasons to choose Inka Trail Expeditions, but the most important reason is that you can participate in a better world.
